AFME's Caroline Liesegang Appointed to European Banking Authority's Banking Stakeholder Group

9 July 2024

The Association for Financial Markets in Europe (AFME) is pleased to announce that Caroline Liesegang, Managing Director, Head of Capital & Risk Management, Sustainable Finance and Research, has been appointed to the European Banking Authority (EBA)'s Banking Stakeholder Group (BSG).

The BSG is composed of 30 members and focuses on examining specific technical issues related to its work plan and formulating opinions to be sent to the EBA on key areas of relevance. In particular, the BSG will be consulted on actions concerning regulatory technical standards, implementing technical standards, guidelines, and recommendations.

Ms. Liesegang brings a wealth of experience in micro- and macroprudential analysis and research to the BSG. As AFME's Head of Capital & Risk Management, Sustainable Finance, and Research, she leads the Association's efforts on the capital framework for banks. Prior to joining AFME, Caroline served as the UK Chief Risk Officer of Commerzbank London, where she designed and implemented the local risk governance framework and oversaw risk management for Commerzbank's UK entities. Prior to Commerzbank, Caroline worked for the ECB, EBA and Deutsche Bundesbank.

Adam Farkas, Chief Executive of AFME, said: "AFME is thrilled that Caroline has been appointed to the BSG. Given Caroline's extensive experience, she is well-equipped to offer advice on any issues related to the BSG tasks and will provide valuable input on common supervisory culture, peer reviews of competent authorities, and assessment of market developments."
